Mr. Hughes, Chief Justice
Henry Ford's New Plan
No Bolshevism Needed

A Real Stigma

Mr. Hughes is now chief justice and the people have in their service a man of great ability, profound knowledge of the law and highest integrity. They know that Mr. Hughes, for the sake of public service, exchanges a "private law practice worth $500,000 a year for the small wages paid by the richest nation to its highest judges."

Henry Ford may spend $100,000,000 establishing schools that will enable students to "fit into life" when they come out at eighteen years of age. He says: "The reason we have so much crime and racketeering is because schools do not teach our young men how to fit in the world. Racketeering is nothing but a revolt against the present improper, imperfect system of teaching."

Schools at present are better than they were 50 years ago before racketeering became a science. Students should all learn to use their hands, particularly those not well adapted to using their heads. It would be waste of time for men of the type of Voltaire, Milton, Moliere or Beethoven to learn a trade, but they are scarce.

Mr. Ford should modify his resolution to "devote the rest of his life to educational undertakings." Part of his effort should produce tractors of the caterpillar type—plenty of power with the traction "track" fully enclosed, protected from dust.

In one column you read about a "mob" of 1,200 idle men, fighting police in Cleveland, twenty in the mob injured, officers hurt. In another column you find comfort, perhaps, in news from Washington that our national banks have resources of over twenty-nine billions of dollars.

Seven thousand four hundred and eight institutions have on deposit more than twenty-two billions. A country so rich ought not to have so many men who are willing to work and idle.

You are told that the mob of rioting unemployed men in Cleveland had been influenced by "Bolshevik propaganda." It is very easy to say "Bolshevism." But when a man is out of work, worried and perhaps hungry, he needs no help from Lenin to make him dangerously dissatisfied.

Men adrift on a raft in midocean (that had never heard of Lenin or Bolshevism) have killed and eaten each other.

Five states of the South, highest in literacy, are conducting educational campaigns to reduce "illiterates." Census shows only 1.1 percentage of illiterates lowest in the nation. Nebraska came first until 1920, and is striving to regain the championship.

However, persuading or forcing hard-working people to study at night when they are tired out, and learn enough about their A B C's to remove the illiteracy stigma is not doing much.

To be able to read and write when you have leisure to do either, and have no access to books worth while, is no help.

As well teach a man 5,000 miles from Egypt to read hieroglyphics on Egyptian monuments.

Hard, under-paid labor and lack of work are a "stigma" worse than illiteracy.

The world still loves titles. In a Los Angeles lawsuit about money collected for a newly invented religious "cult" you meet a mild-looking gentleman called "The Four Winds of the Whirlwinds." He wrote down with his typewriter 50,000 pages dictated by angels to the priestesses of the "Great Eleven Cult."

"Concord of stars led the priestesses to various locations, and there the angels did their dictating." Men and women gave tens of thousands of dollars in return for nonsense of this kind, which proves that the human race is largely foolish.

Ugden L. Mills, assistant secretary of the United States treasury, in a few words convinces you that this country has genuine prosperity if prosperity consists in getting more of life's good things than anybody else gets.

The United States has only 7 per cent of the world's population and yet, says Mr. Mills, "that 7 per cent consumes approximately 48 per cent of the world's coffee, 58 per cent of the tin, 56 per cent of the crude rubber, 21 per cent of the sugar, 72 per cent of the raw silk, 80 per cent of the coal, 42 per cent of the pig iron, 47 per cent of the copper and 69 per cent of the crude petroleum." "Out of nearly 23,000,000 automobiles in the world on January 1, 1928, more than 24,000,000 were owned in the United States." We certainly got our share. Perhaps the world court will tell us we got too much.

PAVILION BURNS AT LAKE MARGRETHE

LOSS ESTIMATED AT ABOUT $5,000. SOME INSURANCE

When Ernest and Chris Larson were on their way to Lake Margrethe to fish early Monday morning and arrived at the pavilion (The Music Box) they found that place on fire. They called William Powell, who resides nearby and the alarm was spread. Mr. Powell says that when he arrived at the building he found it a seething furnace and filled with black smoke. Smoke was pouring out from under the eaves in heavy volume. He broke in one of the windows near the front end of the building hoping to get out some of the toboggans that were piled in that part and the gas was so strong that he was thrown back several feet. Going to the back door he again broke open a window and again received a blast that was stronger than the first.

By that time flames were breaking through the roof and in a very short time there was nothing left of the place and its contents but a smoldering mass of ruins.

Nobody seems to be able to figure out just how the fire could have started. The fire must have started early in the morning. The night before there were a number of people present enjoying the winter sports. Before leaving they piled their toboggans in the pavilion near the front door. Naturally they were more or less covered with snow and the floor around was well-soaked and wet and it hardly seems as if the fire could have developed at that place, however some are of the opinion that is where it began.

The place was under lease to T. W. Hanson and others and during the past season had been improved and considerable new equipment added. Everything was lost. The furnishings were covered by $1,000 insurance, and the building, which belonged to George M. Collen, carried $750 insurance. Unofficial estimate would indicate that the loss is much greater.

Mr. Hanson is absent from the city and as yet we are not informed as to what the future may hold in store for this place. This is one of the finest sites anywhere on the lake for a good hotel and dance pavilion and it is hoped that some such use may be planned for the future.

4500 BOYS TO PLAY BASKET BALL

Lansing, Feb. 18.—A. W. Thompson, director of high school athletics in Michigan estimates that approximately 4,500 boys will take part in the forthcoming district basketball tournaments to be held in 43 villages and cities about the state. This is by far the greatest number of participants the annual court jubilee has ever drawn. Proof that the tournaments are gaining rapidly in popularity is seen in the fact that it has been necessary to increase the number of district events from year to year.

Information available in Mr. Thompson's office indicates that there will be at least 500 schools represented this year. Each one will have from 8 to 10 boys ready to answer the referee's starting whistle. The State association allows expenses for nine players and one manager.

Popularity of basketball has grown largely because the smaller schools find it a relatively inexpensive sport. It requires the least number of players of any of the intercollegiate team sports and usually the place for the games is provided by the school gymnasium.

Preparations for the district tournaments have been in the making for several weeks. The last minute details are now receiving attention. Charles E. Forsythe, assistant director, has been visiting various sections of the state to meet with tournament managers. At these meetings, regulations on which the tournaments are to be conducted come up for explanation and discussion. This means that the tournaments will be uniform in all respects. Decision to select only those men whose names appear on the approved list of officials guarantees competent handling of the contests.

Attendance records at the district tournaments, over the entire state, have been broken every year. Proper handling of teams, orderly and uniform methods of elimination have made the tournaments exceedingly popular. A team is seldom requested to play so far away from its home

SHOPPENAGONS INN REDECORATES DINING ROOM

Waldemar Jensen Does Work Of Art

Mr. Thomas Cassidy, proprietor of Shoppenagons Inn, has reopened the dining room to the public again after having had extensive redecorating done there. The work was done by Mr. Waldemar Jensen, local decorator and is truly a work of art.

As everyone knows, this room adjoins the lobby and is cheerful with three large south windows where the sun shines in all day long and three smaller windows situated higher up on the north side. The ceiling is done in cream color, being divided into three sections by beams, each section decorated with a border of graceful grapevines done in brown. From the center of each hangs an indirect light, the fixtures being of bronze with bowls in cream color shaded with buff.

The walls have a low wainscoting of brown above which are six panels in each panel is a hand painted scene, done by Mr. Jensen personally. These paintings are done in sepia and each one is different. Stately mountains, placid lakes, waterfalls, graceful trees, fleecy clouds, all go to tell a story as can only be told with an artist's brush. Shorter paintings adorn the walls under the high north windows. One must see these walls to really appreciate their beauty; words cannot convey their simple grandeur.

The scenic tones of the walls are relieved by narrow strips between each painting, these being of mottled bronze and green with a cluster of grapes in natural colors at the top.

The floors are finished in brown, while the furniture is of oak. Buffet and server are arranged along the walls and square tables, each with four chairs, are artistically placed in two rows down the dining room. Dainty white curtains are looped back from the windows and the south windows have a growing plant on each windowsill. The snowy table linen, gleaming silver, sparkling crystal, graceful but simple each with a single blossom, give this room the effect that Shoppenagons Inn always maintains and are so proud of. A radio which furnishes music during dinner hours is a delightful addition to this room.

Mr. Jensen justly deserves much praise with his work here and Grayling points with pride to her hotel where visitors in our city are assured of courteous and splendid service.

NAME CANDIDATES FOR VILLAGE OFFICES

The Citizens party for the nomination of candidates for village offices was held Monday evening, Feb. 17th when the following nominations were made:

For President—Christian W. Olsen. For Clerk—Lorraine Sparkes. For Treasurer—Carl W. Peterson. For Assessor—James W. Sorenson. For Trustees—full term—Emil Giegling, Al Roberts, and A. J. Joseph.

The meeting was called to order by Dr. C. R. Keyport who read the official call and was elected temporary chairman. O. P. Schumann was elected clerk and the chair appointed the following tellers: Emil Kraus, Roy Milnes and Tony Nelson.

Trustee Walter Nadeau whose term of office does not expire at this time and who has left the village indefinitely leaves a tentative vacancy. This matter was brot up for consideration and a motion was made and passed that in case his resignation was accepted by the council in time for printing upon the ballot that the village committee be authorized to fill the vacancy. Mr. Nadeau being a Democrat it is necessary, according to a friendly agreement made at the time the Village was organized, that he be succeeded by a Democrat. To get an opinion of the wishes of the caucus the following nominations were offered: Frank Sales and Peter F. Jorgenson and Mr. Sales received a majority of the votes and was declared the choice of the caucus. Then acceptance by the council of Mr. Nadeau's resignation the Village committee will proceed with the filling of the name upon the ballot.

There being no further business the caucus adjourned.

There was only a fair attendance at the caucus. The 46 votes cast is but a small percentage of the voting strength of the Village. A good sized delegation of women was present at the caucus.

FINNEY ATTENDS WINTER CARNIVAL

TELLS OF EXPERIENCE AT GRAYLING

The "Ramblings" column by Finney, published in the Bay City Times on Sunday last contained an interesting and highly amusing story of the author's trip to Grayling to take in the Winter Sports Carnival held here recently. It reads as follows:

Kawkawlin, Feb. 16
Brig Young, City Editor
Well, sir, Bill, along with a couple hundred other Bay Cityans I enjoyed the hospitality of our northern neighbor, Grayling, Sunday. And what a thrill I received dashing down the toboggan slide. Not even the thrill I received some time back when the boss called me in and said: "Finney, starting next week your salary is raised on back."

Leaving Kawkawlin with the heavy weight of my reportorial and political duties in this village on my mind, I sued over a splendid snow-covered road at a lively clip and was up at the lake in about three hours. One sight of the happy throng—and there were grandmas and grandpas in the crowd—I forgot all about the worries that beset a feller in a 'robbling village like ours. My gosh, the sight of a grandma and a grandpa with a gaudy lumberjack colored outfit on a couple sniffs of that invigorating air and I started looking for the feller who lunched the sleds and tickets. I snatched twenty years off my age right there.

Some Slide
The hill on which the toboggans are located is said to be 600 feet high. After climbing it you are willing to accept the figures. When I got to the top the first person I ran across was Miss Daisy Koch. Daisy said she had taken one ride and she preferred to keep within the kawkawlin speed limit and would walk down the next time. The reported speed on the slide is said to be 60 miles per hour. Taint so, Bill. That's the slow slide. They have one that'll hit you hit 100 or perhaps 160 miles an hour.

At the top they place your sled on the slide. Then you hop on. And when I say hop I use the correct word. By gosh, they double you up like a frog. You stick your legs on top of the ears of the party in front of you, or wrap them around his or her neck, take a shoulder hold, the feller releases the draw and zing you come to out on Lake Margrethe. Perhaps your first thoughts are of Henry Jmon, the coroner, but after the first thrill you reach right down in the old pocketbook and in reply to the cashier's request of how many tickets you reply "shoot the bill."

Forget Worries
The second ride and you forget all about your worries, such as installment on the radio, washing machines, fountain pen and whatnot and you enter into the sport with an abandon of the days when you weren't quite so set in your ways and joints or the days when you couldn't tell whether it was gonna rain by the way your big toe felt.

How the folks pack on the sleds is a mystery to me. Gosh, big fat ladies stuck their limbs—two call 'em 'ces in Kawkawlin) around their partner's neck, let out a squeak and were off for the lake below.

And the complexion on the gals up there Bill! The druggist up there will have to go out of biz. I'll bet you city fellers could take 'your mother-in-laws up there, let 'em sniff that air, give 'em a couple rides on the slide and your friends would want to know the name of the 'young' lady put him on the slide and by golly, he saw you sliding around with up at

Mr. Peyton—The photographer—Nels Olson.

School Productions should be first in receiving the patronage of the public, and besides the class is prepared to give a fine entertainment in return. The admission prices are 20 and 35 cents.

Grayling. Half an hour in that glorious air plus a few slides down the hill and believe me, you couldn't tell a mother from a daughter—they would both look younger than each other.

Only One Fault
There was only one thing I didn't like. However, all the fellers up there, tell me its done at the winter resorts in Europe and I hear it's done in the city but by golly, we fellers from Kawkawlin don't believe in taking our gals for a ride and making 'em walk back. It's a long walk up that hill.

I saw so many people from Bay City up there that I wouldn't attempt to name them all here. Bill. However, I'm glad to know that there are many live wires up in your burg.

And now folks that we've seen Grayling, how about a little dash up to Greenbush some Sunday. I'll expect to see you all up there. Harry Ball of Midland tells me he hasn't had his teeth jarred loose in front of the ten cent store as I predicted so I'm gonna take that feller up there, put him on the slide and by golly, maybe he'll swallow 'em.

KILLING A PRIVILEGE

In the old days saloon keepers weren't satisfied with the right to sell intoxicating liquors but went so far as to try to control politics. In fact they were quite a dominant factor in government. This pertains to saloons in general and not to any particular one. There was considerable lawlessness among keepers and patrons, with the keepers generally waxing wealthy off the weaknesses and misfortunes of others and oftentimes by foul play. We can recall saloons on certain streets in Chicago where it was unsafe for one to enter. You were lucky to get out with your money in your possession and sometimes with your life.

This became unbearable and all except one or two states voted the saloons out of business. The fair dealing saloon keeper lost out because of the hoodlums in the business. The saloons had become obnoxious. Few there were that wouldn't hesitate to take a fellow's last cent even though they knew the fellow's family needed the money. And also even though the fellow was almost too drunk to get up to the bar his ten cents was accepted without compunction and the bottle set before him.

The people became disgusted. The opportunity came to them to vote wet or dry and they voted dry. Laws were enacted that made the country drier than anyone ever expected. Then many people became lawless and now there are more law violators in America than during the days of the saloon.

The saloon-keeper was to blame. The situation is in principle some what paralleled by conditions at dancing parties held at the school house. When it gets so that empty bottles are found in some of the grade and cloak rooms the morning after dancing parties that is going too far. Young boys and girls witness evidence of drinking and cigarette smoking which cannot help but raise doubts in their minds. Cigarette stubs line the basement hall and even are found in some of the rooms and upper halls. It is an extremely dangerous practice because of possible fires resulting and should be stopped.

The abuse of the school house during dancing parties is bound ultimately to cause the board to prohibit its use for everything except for school affairs. Its a wonderful place for parties and we don't know how the community can get along without it, but nevertheless we are going to kill our right to use it for such if we continue to abuse the privilege. There is already some talk going on about not letting it be used for dancing parties; and not by cranks nor people who are prejudiced but by some of our most liberal citizens. Drinking parties are not confined to any particular dances but to practically all annual New Year ball, Junior prom and others. The great trouble is that it appears to have become so commonplace that people get careless. If there is one place in Grayling that should be kept clean it is the school house where the evidence comes to the notice of young boys and girls. That's the bad feature of it, and that's what is going to kill the privilege of using the school for parties.

There will be some people who may think we are referring to them. However that is not the truth. We are not concerned about people's drinking but we are concerned about keeping the school house clean. Our boys and girls go there for their education and moral and physical training. And we are also concerned lest we like the saloonkeepers, go too far and that a privilege we have enjoyed is taken from us. This article is not intended as a reflection on anyone but rather as a warning of what may happen.

Editorial note: News paper, published for the Avalanche.

SOME PLAIN TALK

If you are a government official sworn to enforce law, and if you discover law violation and apprehend the violator, you are a snooper.

But if you are a sensational reporter for a careless magazine, and if you hear second hand a garbled report of an alleged violation and broadcast that report recklessly to the whole public with possible grand jury indictments and destruction of the reputations of innocent men as a result, you are not a snooper. You are a useful servant of truth and an enemy of hypocrisy.

The difference between a snooper and a "private dry law investigator" seems to be this: A snooper is a dry enforcer who obtains facts sufficient to convict. A "private dry law investigator" is a wet who, failing to obtain facts, broadcasts hearsay instead. If a congressional committee asks the "investigator" for proofs his cue is to say: "I am not a snooper." Grand Rapids Press.

TUBERCULOSIS IN CHILDREN

Little children, according to the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, may have tuberculosis and the indications may not be very marked. There may be a cough but not necessarily. The child may even be up to normal weight, though more likely below weight.

The signs most easily noticed by the mother are that the youngster does not act natural. He is likely to be pale, his appetite is poor, he gets tired easily, is not rested after a night's sleep and in general lacks "pep."

These symptoms may come from other causes than tuberculosis, but when they persist several weeks or months and no satisfactory reason can be assigned, one may well suspect tuberculosis. Children with such symptoms should be taken to the doctor for the tuberculin skin test. This test is practically painless and furnishes a reliable basis for further examination. If the test is "positive" the doctor will take an X-ray picture of the chest.

In such ways may tuberculosis be discovered at so early a stage that it is readily arrested.

CANDIDATES FOR STATE SENATOR

Benjamin N. Carpenter of Harrison, a member of the Clare County Board of Supervisors for nine years and at present the chairman of the conservative committee of that body, announced Friday that he would be a candidate in the primaries for the nomination of the republican ticket for the office of state senator from the twenty-eighth district, the office now held by Tony Achard.

Carpenter has lived in Harrison for nineteen years and is a prominent business man of that city. He also has interests in the city of Clare. He is greatly interested in the development of northeastern Michigan and as a lover of the out-of-doors is favorable to the public rights to the lakes and streams of the state. Badge of Beaver and Butler of East Tawas have already announced their candidacy.

A slanderous tongue is more to be dreaded than the most loathsome reptile that crawls upon the face of the earth for he will give warning before he strikes you—but a slanderer—never. Let a man or woman start on the downward road to ruin and we are all prone to step aside and cry out, "slide on, slide on to destruction." Instead of stretching out the hand of brotherly love and staying their progress, we stand by and let them slide. He who can stoop down and lift up his fallen brother from the mire and place him on his feet and whisper sweet counsel in his ear and bid him go and lead a better life, is truly a benefactor to the race.

A Chicago husband is asking the court for an injunction to restrain his wife from kidnapping him. We know a lot of husbands who would give a lot to know how he keeps so popular with his wife.

Editor MacDonald of Gaylord apologizes in last week's edition for not having said anything in his paper about the coming Winter Sports carnival here in Grayling. He says he didn't know anything about the carnival until he received the Avalanche on the day before the event. He says "No bills were circulated here." That accounts, Mac, for your not seeing posters in Gaylord advertising the carnival.

Late in the afternoon the party surprised the hostess by showering her with many lovely gifts. Following this another surprise in form of a birthday cake for Mrs. John Erkes, which was trimmed in white with dainty red hearts and pink candles. A very delicious lunch was served. Mrs. George Clise won the prize Next meeting of Our Gang will be held at the home of Mrs. Geo. Clise with Mrs. Barton Wakeley as hostess.

A very enthusiastic group met at the Board of Trade rooms Tuesday evening to discuss the prospect of having a band. A survey proved that there were about 37 men eligible and practically willing to join—nearly all young players. Prof. Ed. Clark is available as a director and it looks as though a band was going to be a fact. A meeting has been called for Thursday evening at the same place to endeavor to complete arrangements and form an organization. We have always favored a band, and we are glad when we can again see and hear our very own band marching proudly up Main street with martial air, playing some stirring march. The boys are going to need some help, of course, but we believe they will get it. Let's have a band and drum major 'n' all.

WHAT HAS THE WEATHER BEEN?

According to Philip G. Zalamon we have had a pretty snug winter. But even at that everyone knew it without him telling us. However, it is interesting to review the temperature figures as he has recorded them at the State trout hatchery where readings are made easily.

November
Mr. Zalamon says the cold weather started here November 2nd. After that there were only four nights that it did not freeze and on the 29th it was one below zero.
The warmest days during the month were on the first and third when it was 49 above in the shade.

December
The warmest day of December was on the 31st, the thermometer registering 39 above. The coldest night was on the 22nd, registering 4 below zero. The temperature was below freezing every night during the month and also at noon except on seven occasions.

January
January started out with a thaw and the first week we lost considerable snow. On the 1st it registered 39 above zero at noon and on the 6th it was 40 above. The coldest night of this first week was only 13 above zero. The weather was quite moderate up to the 12th. After that it did not reach above freezing point and on January 22nd it was 12 below zero.

February
Thus far in February the weather has been quite normal—cold nights and fair days and light storms. It took last Sunday morning to break the record for low temperature. The mercury dropped to 26 below zero, and that was plenty cold enough.

Two Basket Ball Games Last Week
Boys City vs. Grayling

The basket ball team departed for Boys City Friday afternoon at one thirty. Due to the blizzard between here and Gaylord, it took considerable time to arrive.

Naturally they were somewhat tired when they went out on the floor, but they played the game in great spirit to the "d." The discussion being in Boys City's favor 10-10.

Gaylord Boy Scouts vs. Second Team
February 16th our second team made up what they lost the week before. Playing a good game against the Boy Scouts of Gaylord, winning from them by a big score.

Eighth Grade Entertain
Last Monday the eighth grade, under the guidance of Mr. Poor, presented to the high school their assembly. Although very short it was cleverly done and well arranged. A mock wedding, with Arduth Dunham and Russell Mosher as the bride and groom and Bobbie Lamonte as the minister, was extremely funny.

Annual Committee Starts Work
Last Tuesday the advertising committee of the Annual drove to Gaylord to canvass for advertisements. They were very successful, reporting that same evening with fifty dollars worth of ads from Gaylord and Fredrick. We are extremely well pleased with the friendly attitude Gaylord is showing toward the Senior class of our school in this undertaking.

Junior Play Next Friday
The Junior play "High Flyers" is to be presented Friday evening at 8:00 p. m. Admission 20 and 35 cents.

High School Orchestra
Several new members have joined the orchestra and another successful rehearsal was held last Thursday evening. We are told that at the present rate of progress, within a short time members will be allowed to invite their parents to attend rehearsals.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Hans Peterson, who passed away 3 years ago today, Feb. 22, 1927.

Days of sadness still come over us.
Tears in silence often flow,
For memory keeps you ever near us.

Though you died three years ago,
Her loving children and grandchildren.

DAD'S VALENTINE

Saint Valentine's Day—the day that, in by-gone years, was dedicated to Cupid and his darts exclusively, but which now days is more or less commercialized by stationers urging the general public to "say it with valentines"—send a valentine to mother, send a valentine to dad, send a "comic" to the teacher—it will surely make her glad (?), and so on ad infinitum, brings to mind the story of the youth at college, who, in a burst of "filial affection," indited the following verse in the center of a big red heart and sent it to "Dad" back on the farm:

"Dear Dad:—
If you love me
As I love thee,
Send me fifty dollars—
See?"

Now "Dad" had never been to college, but after milking six cows and bedding down a couple of teams of horses and doing a few other chores that were his daily routine on the farm, sat down by the light of the old kerosene lamp and answered as follows:

"Dear Son:—
The rose is red,
The pink is pink,
I'll send you fifty—
I don't think."

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Away back when the writer was a boy, some folks were spoken-of as being afflicted with a "parrot" disease, but as he remembers it, it was considered a malady of the mental and lingual organs, rather than of the respiratory organs, and was not considered contagious. Neither were columns of space devoted to it in the newspapers, and it was not called "PSITTACOSIS." But then what's in a name—the old-fashioned pain in the lumbar region (so often diagnosed as "inflammation of the bowels" in those days) now flourishes as "APPENDICITIS." I wonder if the new disease will rival the latter in popularity. And what is to become of "pretty Polly" of our childhood days.

NOT SO GOOD

With these Fathers and Sons banquets—"If you haven't a son of your own, bring some other daddy's son," and these Mothers and Daughters banquets—"If you haven't a daughter of your own, bring some other mother's daughter," the Space Filler thought he had hit on a new and brilliant idea and was going to propose having a "Husbands and Wives banquet," but when he mentioned it to a friend was told it wouldn't do at all. "Why not?" said the Space Filler—"If you haven't a wife of your own, bring some other—" and then he saw his error and what the outcome would be, and he agreed with his friend that the brilliant idea was "not so good."

ATTA BOY, HENRY!

Chemists now say that alcohol will succeed gasoline as fuel for autos when oil gives out. A large British company has made many experiments along this line and is preparing to make a mixture of alcohol and gasoline as an anti-knock fuel. However, Dr. Henry Armstrong, of Philadelphia, goes further and says that the proper fuel is pure alcohol alone. Just think what a "kick" a tank full of pure alcohol would give to a "Lizard" if it is anything like the effect of half a pint of the "O-be-joyful" on the human machine.

Now the scientists have discovered that ox-tail soup is made of ox-tails after all. Next thing you know they will be finding out the whoopee is not made of hoops either.

Of course airplanes and talking pictures are all right but every once in a while we catch ourself longing for the good old bob sled and sassafras tea days.

SOUTH BRANCH MEN CHARGED WITH HAVING ILLEGAL VENISON

Wilson Johnson and Roy Garver of South Branch township pleaded guilty in Justice H. Peterson's court Wednesday morning to the charge of illegal possession of venison.

Both men pleaded guilty and sentenced to pay fines each of $75.00 and $17.50 costs or be imprisoned in jail for sixty days. Johnson paid his fine and Garver says he will board it out in jail.

The men were apprehended and arrested Wednesday morning by Conservation Officers Earl Dutton of Roscommon and George Sitt of Mio. Johnson and Garver reside together and the officers say they found them in possession of a buck and two fawns.

The confiscated carcasses which the officers say were quite fresh, were sent to the infirmaries of Crawford and Roscommon counties.

ICE KINGS LOSE TO B. C. MERCHANTS

One of the finest exhibitions of basket ball playing seen here this season was between Grayling Ice Kings and the Bay City Merchants. The latter is made up largely of ex-college players and made up an aggregation of stars.

The score ended 24 to 33 in favor of the visitors. Grayling put up a remarkable game, combating a combination of basket ball shooters that are hard to stop on any floor. And in spite of the strong guard against them Grayling came thru with a number of scores.

The Bay Cityans have only lost one game this season and we know that it was going to take a remarkable team to beat them. They played a fine clean brand of basketball and presented a pleasing appearance on the floor.

FIRE DESTROYS SUMMER HOME

The beautiful cobblestone summer home at Oak Grove, Higgins Lake, owned by John Zimmerman of Flint, was completely destroyed by fire last Friday forenoon. The fire caught from a defective pipe leading from the furnace. John Zimmerman Jr., and his uncle were at the cottage for a few days fishing and the fire caught while the former was out on the lake. Remaining at the cottage his uncle discovered the fire but it was of such nature that he could not combat it alone and called John in off the lake. He jumped in his car and came to town for help but by the time help was rounded up the flames were beyond control. Only a small portion of the contents was saved. It was one of the prettiest cottages on the lake.—Roscommon Herald-News.

THEIR WORK WILL ENDURE

One of the really worthwhile spectacles in the town is "Boy Scout Week." We have just got through observing this annual event. As the years pass the scout movement among the boys and girls continues to grow.

W. S. know of no organization entitled to more general public support than the Boy and Girl Scouts.

The Boy Scouts is a comparatively new organization—about a generation ago. It has a great appeal, not only to boys, but to the public. It has been a wonderfully constructive force in the relationship between boys of a certain age and the world.

While we talk about the boys we should not forget the girls. Scoutism is just as good for the girls as it is for their brothers. The Girl Scouts make up an organization with ideals and accomplishments that carry on into generations yet to come.

In this community, in every community, there are several people who are giving their time and energy to make these organizations a success. We imagine that these leaders receive a great deal of satisfaction from their work, they see its results. But the pleasure that they get should not be the only compensation. There should be a friendly recognition of their efforts by the whole community.

Now that the reparation question is settled, and the Young plan adopted, if they will only let Babe Ruth's salary settled we can begin to look forward to the approach of spring with some pleasure.

BANKERS REPORT DROP IN SAVINGS

Lure of Stock Market Partly to Blame, but Slackened Speculation Expected to Bring Return to Thrift.

The first recession in the nation's savings account in banks in the twenty years during which records in this field have been kept by the American Bankers Association was disclosed for last year in the recent annual compilation prepared by the Savings Bank Division. The shrinkage amounted to over $195,000,000, on the basis of figures for the year ending June 28, 1929, whereas a year earlier the reported increase was over $2,300,000,000, the largest ever recorded. The number of savings depositors also decreased during the year covered by more than 500,000 accounts. The lure of the stock market and allied activities is cited as part of the explanation for these changes.

The association's statement says that savings deposits in banks and trust companies of continental United States on June 28, 1929, stood at $28,217,656,000. The recession in savings, it declares, indicates a fundamental change in the savings situation, irrespective of whether it is temporary or not.

How Savings Used to Grow

"In 1926 savings deposits increased $1,628,000,000, in 1927 almost $1,400,000,000 and in 1928 over $2,300,000,000," it says. "It appears now that some indication of one-year have taken the gain that might reasonably have been expected in savings deposits for 1929 and lowered them from the high mark of the preceding year. This recession is not one coming as a result of drought, famine, unemployment or conditions outside of the United States."

"A year ago it was stated: 'The year closing June 30, 1928, registered the largest gain in savings deposits in banks and trust companies of continental United States ever recorded in the history of this country.' What a difference one year makes! From a gain of more than 2 1/4 billions of dollars in savings deposits to a loss of almost 200 millions!"

"The loss in savings deposits is reflected also in the loss of savings depositors. The year 1929 showed a total of 52,864,127 depositors, against 53,138,418 for 1928, a loss of 274,291."

"Industry and commerce was much higher last year than the preceding year. Factory payrolls were considerably greater. In production, employment and trade, advances were made over the preceding year. In the farm areas the improvement noted for 1928 did not recede in 1929 and the livestock industry in all its branches was prosperous."

"The causes of the recession are possibly multiple. There is scarcely any reason to doubt that one of the important factors draining away savings and decreasing depositors has been the lure of profits to be made in stocks. For a number of years the people have been regaled with stories of profits made in stocks in all types of companies. During the last few years there has been a species of philosophy preached that profits such as formerly occurred were no longer possible."

"If it was the lure of profits in stocks which caused the recession in savings, then a factor in future savings will be the success attendant upon this venture of savings depositors in stocks. If the experiment did not prove generally successful, then another year will doubtless witness an increase in savings deposits as well as in savings depositors."

Lake's Outflow Turned by Volcanic Upheaval

The history of Lake Nicaragua illustrates the geographical instability of area. The lake now discharges to the Atlantic through San Juan River, but its former outlet was the Pacific. The building up of the volcanic chain from Masaya to Omasaca has cut off the original western outlet of Lake Nicaragua and diverted its drainage eastward to the Caribbean sea.

Cause for the upheaval of the floor is the tilting of blocks of the earth's crust, which is like a pavement built of stone sets. If a water main bursts below a roadway the surface is upheaved and the blocks are tilted at various angles.

Similarly on the upheaval of the earth's surface, the crustal blocks are tilted, and the edge of one block may be raised while the other edge may sink.

The subsidence of the floor of the Pacific may force some of the under-lying material to move toward Central America and cause an upbulging of the coastal belt. There is conclusive evidence of the direct uplift of this region. Lakes Nicaragua and Managua both occupy the site of an old Pacific bay.

A relic of this condition is the occupation of Lake Nicaragua by species of shark and swordfish which are parts of the Pacific and are absent from the Caribbean sea. The fish were probably caught in the lake when the area was uplifted from sea-level to its present height of about 130 feet.

Small Boy's Knowledge

Of Aaron Not Biblical

"Home training is one of the most important factors in education," declares a retired superintendent of schools. "The school cannot do it all. One can nearly always picture the home life of a pupil from his actions in the classroom."

"Home influence is even more noticeable in religious training than in the public school work. I was speaking about the little to a group of primary children one day and to test out their knowledge asked if any of them could tell me who Aaron was."

"Only one hand was raised. I asked the question again but still only little Samuel, a Jewish child, professed to know anything about Aaron."

"Very well, Samuel," I said, "length, you tell the rest of the children who Aaron was."

"Aaron was the first name to be put in the telephone book," Samuel answered.

"Folk"

As used in Old English, folk is a collective noun meaning "people," having a plural of the same form meaning "peoples." In later English, the plural form folks was introduced. In present usage, the two plurals have become differentiated in sense, so that folk means "peoples," or, as a collective, "people," and folks, especially with an adjective, implies a small collection of individuals.

FORESEEING END OF MOON

The Naval Observatory says it is stated by Jefferys, who has made an elaborate mathematical investigation of the subject, that the moon will be able to return to the earth before it reaches twice its present distance and will continue to approach until it comes so near that it will be torn to pieces by the attraction of the earth.

The fragments will then form a ring around the earth like that of Saturn, Russell, without disputing this conclusion, adds that the sun may have ceased to shine before this exceedingly slow recession and return of the moon are completed.

IMMORTAL HYMN

Rev. Henry P. Lytle (1798-1847), an English curate, in broken health, had been ordered to take a trip to a more southern climate. After his final communion service he dragged himself to his room, and before leaving gave to a relative a copy of the words "A Hymn with me, first falls the evening," which he had written, recording his own feelings during the twilight of that Sabbath day. Soon afterward, while on this journey, he died at Nice, France.

The Care of Your Money

WHAT YOUR INVESTMENT BANKER CAN DO

Many an investor "goes it alone" and lives to rue it, for how can a man or woman whose daily life is occupied with other affairs, be expert in financial matters? Many investors do not even know how to avail themselves of a good investment house, nor just what such a house can do to help them. They take up their investments more or less blindly and it is largely a matter of chance if they happen to turn out successfully.

It is important that an investor should know in order that he may take advantage of the various statistical and advisory services which are rendered for his especial benefit.

Some houses, of course, are better equipped than others and it is up to the investor to find a house that can give him what he individually needs, and establish a connection that will cost him little or nothing and may save him from financial disaster.

Of prime importance is the investigation of the securities in which the investor contemplates placing his funds. Quite likely it is impossible for him to investigate them for himself, but it is essential that they should be investigated and that is what a good investment banker is for.

The investor has no safe place in which to keep his securities but the investment banker can keep them for him, and he can become a cash or deposit interest as required. Where the investor takes care of his own securities, the house will collect the coupons for him as they are presented for payment.

An investor holding a diversified list of securities may have them listed with the statistical bureau of the house (if so equipped) and this bureau will watch for developments in connection with these investments. It will notify the investor when any of his securities are selling above call price or if any of them are called for redemption before maturity. It will make recommendations for the reinvestment of called bonds so that no time or interest need be lost in case of call. It will also make recommendations for exchange or trading of securities when desired. If such an exchange would result beneficially for the investor.

Where an investor desires to accumulate money the house can show him just what he can do in a certain period by opening a savings investment account for the continuing purchase of investments by monthly deposits out of his earnings. One of the most valuable connections that a man can establish is that between him and a sound investment house which will guard his interests, give him advice and investigate for him the securities he is unable to investigate for himself.

Improve Grass Crop On Run Down Fields

Methods of increasing the amount of pasture produced by run-down fields have been successfully tested in various parts of the State by the soils department of Michigan State College.

The means used to improve the pastures were plowing and reseeded, the use of lime, and the application of several kinds of commercial fertilizers.

Plowing and reseeded successfully renewed the pasture where it was tried, but the expense and loss of time needed for this operation sometimes prevent its use. Hilly pastures are also apt to wash when they are plowed.

Complete fertilizers gave better results than the use of plant foods which did not contain all the needed food elements. An analysis of 5-12-4 gave excellent results when broadcast on the sod in the spring.

The use of this fertilizer on a poor pasture field increased the yield of grass 2025 pounds per acre in 1928 and 2455 pounds per acre in 1929. This increase almost doubled the grass production on this field.

The use of ground limestone did not give immediate results. Apparently a form of lime which is quickly available is needed to get rapid response from the application.

Truck Will Exhibit Good Dairy Methods

East Lansing, Feb. 17.—To improve the quality of milk and milk products, a specially built truck will visit 16 Michigan counties, and specialists from Michigan State College will show some of the methods which can be used to keep milk clean and sweet.

The use of model cow stalls, smothered milk pails, and a proper type of strainer will prevent the entrance of dirt into the milk. Proper cleaning of the milk will discourage growth of bacteria and keep the milk sweet for longer periods.

The quality of butter is determined by the grade of cream from which it is made and this in turn is dependent upon the care given the milk before it is skimmed. Better practices at all steps of the dairy business will improve the quality of the product and increase the demand for these products and aid the price.

Types of recommended equipment will be shown on the truck and specialists will explain at each meeting how these can be used to the advantage. Members of the agricultural engineering and dairy departments at Michigan State College will give the talks.

Counties which will be visited are: St. Clair, Feb. 17-18; Livingston, Feb. 20; Eaton, Feb. 21; Gladwin, Feb. 22; Ionia, Feb. 23-24; Clare, March 3-4; Charlevoix, March 5-6; Kent, March 10-11; Barry, March 12; Monroe, March 17-18; Lenawee, March 19; Jackson, March 21; Van Buren, March 24-25; Allegan, March 26-27; Calhoun, March 28.

Yearling hens are better than pullets for breeders, as the former usually lay large eggs which hatch into larger and stronger chicks than the pullets.

SAILING ON

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

The story is told in the life of Christopher Columbus that as they drifted on from day to day in the little frail boats in which he and his companions were attempting to cross an unknown and an uncharted sea, the superstitious sailors were frightened at seeing no land, nor any signs of land, and were on the verge of mutiny.

General Grant, who was in charge of the northern forces toward the end of the Civil war, had laid out for himself and his armies a plan of procedure. It involved hard fighting and a high mortality of his troops. This plan seemed to many people pretty much a hopeless one. Success did not come to him at once; there were disastrous losses which looked very much like failure. He was questioned as to the wisdom of his plan.

"I shall fight it out on this line," was his reply. "If it takes all summer."

Sailing on in the face of storm and high waves and reverse winds! In the end he won.

A freshman dropped in on me yesterday. He had set sail in his intellectual barque a few weeks ago, and now he was ready to turn back. Things had not proved so easy as he had anticipated. Mathematics took more time and more hard thinking than he had planned to give it. His English style was neither so fluent nor so accurate as he had been made to think in high school, and he could hardly see what use some of the subjects which he was required to pursue would be to him after he got out of college. He was fearful and discouraged, and there was no land in sight. All that I could say failed to convince him or induce him to sail on.

I watched a football player in our last intercollegiate game in his attempts to advance the ball. The defense of the opposing team was for a considerable time perfect. Time and again the boy tried with the ball to plunge through the line, but the line held, and he was stopped at every attempt. There was for him, apparently, no land in sight, but he sailed on, the line finally weakened, the interference came to his support and he made a touchdown.

A friend of mine who was engaged in a scientific investigation made the same experiment more than a thousand times in order to reach a desired result. Over and over again he was advised by those who were onlookers that it was useless for him to continue. There was nothing they could do but be hoped for by going on. But he sailed on, and ultimately he made the discovery he had been hoping for. Persistence in following an ideal! It is a great virtue.

I Trade at Home

Because my interests are here. Because I want to see the goods.

Because I want to get what I want when I pay for it. Because here I live and here I hope to die.

Because the men I buy from stand back of the goods. Because the man I buy from pays part of town, county and state taxes.

Because every dollar I spend at home works for the community in which I live. Because the community good enough for me to live in is good enough to buy in.

Because the man I buy from helps support my school, my lodge, my church, my home.

Because, when ill-luck, misfortune or bereavement come, the man I buy from is here with his kindly greetings, his words of cheer and his pocketbook if need be.

Inside Information

Good lighting is necessary for good laundry work. Washing and ironing equipment should be placed so that light strikes it from the side. This is a point to consider in locating stationary tubs or a built-in ironing board.

Eggs are good at any meal. For dinner many people prefer ham and fried eggs to the more elaborate foods. Or one might take a suggestion from the prevailing social custom of serving scrambled eggs and sausages for a midnight collation, and use this good combination for either supper or dinner.

An omelet, or a soufflé made with many eggs in combination with cheese or ground vegetables, meat, or fish is another use for eggs as a main dish. A platter of hard-cooked eggs in curry sauce is a pleasing variation from the usual flavors. The U. S. Department of Agriculture has published a leaflet containing recipes for a number of good egg dishes and desserts in which eggs predominate.

First Coffee in West? The story runs that Capt. Gabriel de Clieu brought the first coffee plant to Martinique about the year 1723, deriving himself of part of his supply of drinking water in order to keep the little plant alive on the long voyage from France.

Famous Canadian Cathedral Canada's oldest Anglican cathedral is Holy Trinity, in the city of Quebec, due to the efforts of the late Anglican bishop in Quebec, Dr. John Montan. It was the second Vatican cathedral to be built after the Reformation. The Quebec structure, the oldest stone of which was laid in 1840, is the reproduction of St. Martin-in-the-Fields of London. The solid silver communion plate in Holy Trinity was the gift of George III. Holy Trinity was also the first church in Canada to have a surplined choir. The church is one of the most interesting architectural landmarks in the ancient capital.

One-Way Telephone One-way streets have become a familiar feature of American cities and towns, but in Japan there is what might be termed a "one-way" telephone line.

This line was installed recently in the interior palace at Tokyo for the use of his majesty, the emperor of Japan. The emperor can use the telephone line in calling up his ministers of state and in keeping in touch with outside affairs, but it is so arranged that it operated only when the transmitter is lifted, with the result that while outgoing calls can be handled, no incoming calls can be received.

His Patience Gave Way Old Bill Holcomb, the town's leading character, had gone into the barber shop for a shave. At every stroke the barber's razor was asking: "Does it hurt? Is the razor all right?" But after 10 minutes Old Bill lost his patience. Upon the barber's next query of: "Does it hurt?" he yelled: "Hell's bells! Is it supposed to?"—New York Central Magazine.

Teacher's Fault A lady came to call and as mother was not quite ready to see callers Billy was sent down to talk with her until mother was ready.

"How old are you?" asked the lady. "Nine," said Billy. "And what grade are you in at school?"

"The second," said Billy, "but it's the teacher's fault."

TO AUCTION OIL AND GAS LEASES

The second public auction of oil and gas leases on state lands will be held by the Department of Conservation at 10 a. m., Thursday, February 27th.

Since this auction will involve more than 38,000 acres and will prove of interest to a large number of oil operators in Michigan and other states, the use of the Senate Chamber in the Capitol Building has been secured, assuring ample seating accommodations.

Lands to be offered in proven territory comprise 40 acres in Township 16 North, Range 3 West, Isabella County; 40 acres in Township 12 North, Range 12 West, Newaygo County; and 240 acres in Township 15 North, Range 2 West, Midland County.

Lands to be offered in wildcat territory comprise 160 acres in Township 21 North, Range 16 West in Manistee County; 12,000 acres in Townships 21 and 22 North, Range 1, 2, 3, and 4 East, Ogemaw County; and 24,000 acres in Townships 19 and 20 North, Ranges 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7 East in Arenac County.

A few changes have been made in the form of the state lease, and in the rules and regulations governing it. Of special interest is the change in that section of the lease which provides that the drilling of a well must be started within one year of date of the lease.

MRS. FRANCIS STREET

"I am glad to let the public know what Konjola has done for me," said Mrs. Francis Street, 608 North Oakley Street, Saginaw. "For six years I was trying medicine after medicine in an endeavor to get relief from severe stomach and liver troubles. Nothing, it seemed, could give me relief, and I kept getting worse. I became so ill that I could not eat anything but toast and milk, and for a long time lived on milk alone. I became very nervous."

"I had lost all faith in medicines, but I finally yielded to a friend who insisted that I try this new Konjola. After the first bottle I could notice a change for the better, and I kept on until I had taken eight bottles. By that time my health was restored. I have no stomach or liver trouble and constipation is a thing of the past."

Konjola is sold in Grayling at the Mac & Gilday drug store and at all the best drug stores in all towns throughout this entire section.

A fire in the basement of the John W. Cowell home last Saturday afternoon did small damage. Mr. Cowell had been in the basement thawing out a frozen water pipe by the aid of a blowtorch. Our teachers are working hard and successfully, but they never know whether their work is appreciated or not unless they have some intimation to the effect from the patrons of the schools. Parents should make it a point to visit at least the rooms in which they have children. Kindly visits from parents have an inspiring influence both with the teacher and pupils and if the visits be accompanied by an occasional word of encouragement, so much the better.

Frank Tatu has taken over the agency for the Lynn oil burners for kitchen range and heating stoves. This was formerly handled by John Deckrow. We can say from experience that the heaters are wonderful.

We have used one in our sanctum since early November and have been agreeably surprised at its efficiency. It requires almost no attention besides keeping the tanks filled with oil. Between times we forget all about the fire. We have been very comfortable all winter with this apparatus for heat. And another good feature, there isn't a particle of dirt or dust from the stove. We find the cost of operation very reasonable, and no labor expense building fires and emptying ashes, and once a week cleaning the stovepipe from coal spot. We hear good reports from the range burners too. This is not an advertisement but is an unsolicited endorsement of a worthy article.

TO YOU IS IT NOTHING THAT JESUS SHOULD DIE?

A medical doctor has something of unusual interest to say: "Jesus died long before the time which was usual for crucifixion, and perhaps his death was not wholly due to the effects of the torture following the terrible strain of the preceding days. The loud cry with which he died seems to betoken a sudden spasm, and the fourth evangelist tells us that when a spear was thrust into his side after death there issued what appeared to be mingled blood and water. It has been conjectured, on medical grounds, that the immediate cause of his death was a rupture of the heart."

If we are christian, we will be sharers in His heart-break. Does human greed and human need, and human selfishness, hurt your soul to the heart of you? Then you can count yourself a privileged sharer with Him in the heart-break. Your life will have redemptive quality in it. Without it, neither you nor I are Christian.

DO NOT PET IT

The State Administrative Board has met the request of the Michigan Safety Department for sufficient funds to equip the state police with machine guns, high power cars, radio outfits for scout cars and anything else necessary to conduct a successful warfare against the criminal classes.

There is only one language that a certain class of lawless people understand. That is the one that is spoken with guns.

To try to rule lawless bands with weak words and misplaced confidence is just about the same as petting a wild tiger.

Lawlessness needs a police force which is sturdy and unpurchasable. It needs a public sentiment which is uncompromising with crime. When these conditions prevail most of the lawlessness will disappear.

BRINGS EAST MICHIGAN TO THE FRONT

East Michigan stepped a stride farther to the front in the minds of sport lovers last week when Grayling put over its Mid-Winter Sports Carnival with such an outstanding success. At least a thousand people crowded into the village on Saturday afternoon to see the parade of the queen and her court and cavalcade on its trek to the ice-throw on Lake Margrethe, and newspapers estimated that that number was increased by a small several hundred on Sunday, the day of the prize-contests and lumber camp dinner in the pavilion. When such a result as this is affected not only by the natural resources of the community and for winter sports, but also by the splendid cooperative spirit that is alive in the village, it gives rise to the question of why can't this same sort of thing be done by many other communities in Michigan. Grayling's rain and climate are ideal for such a carnival. But hills almost as suitable for such slides as the Grayling toboggan abound in this section and East Michigan is world-famous for her lakes. East Michigan as a summer-resort-land has been advertised and heralded in newspaper and magazine articles for several years by the East Michigan Tourist Association, but the Grayling triumph of the twenty years of this organization shows that others that the survival of the growth of bacteria.

Bakery Yields $30,000 Profit In 10 Years

"When I came into this town I was the only Irishman in a community of Danes," said a certain well-known hotel owner to us recently. "I had no money, and seven children to put through school. But I took over the local bakery. And I've no complaints to make about East Michigan business. For in just ten years I walked out of that bakery with a profit of $30,000."

NEWS & COMMENTS
FROM WASHINGTON

(By Congressman Roy O. Woodruff, Tenth Michigan District.)

Washington, D. C., took time off from its political or other labors on February 12 to again honor the Great Emancipator, the revered Abraham Lincoln, with appropriate ceremonies both in and out of the Congress. More marked, perhaps, on the 121st anniversary of his birth were the wonderful traits of the great food man than ever before in the memory of the people. In this time of turmoil, political stress and world uneasiness, the deep philosophy and the high ideals of the rail-splitter who rose to occupy the White House were more pronounced.

The Department of Labor is the authority for the statement that the vast improvement that marked the latter part of January in the upturn of labor conditions is the basis for the hope that within 60 to 90 days the country will be back on a normal working basis. All reports, says the department, indicate a great upswing in the employment situation is in motion. The country can stand a good deal of that sort of upswing with good results.

A stricter application of the legal standards in admitting Mexican immigrants to the United States which has been invoked for the past seven months has reduced the inflow of Mexicans 75-100 per cent for the period under that of the corresponding previous period. It is reported that will not hurt this country any, and will cheer the heart of the American farm laborer.

The 270 industrial establishments operating on the five-day-a-week basis at the end of 1935 are obtaining a greater output per hour than was the case under the longer working schedule, according to studies which have just been completed, it was announced here this week by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. It is believed by students of the plan that the longer week-end rest benefits the worker and enables him to put more vigor into his work during labor hours. All of which goes to prove the old adage that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." So long as the plan is not carried to the point of reducing laborers' incomes, it is a good thing. In case of stringency, it is better to lessen the number of days, and permit all to work and live than to lay off part of the workers to starve and keep the rest at top speed.

The outstanding event of the week was the remarkable and amazing opposition which developed in the Senate to the confirmation of Charles E. Hughes, former secretary of State, as Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court. After the noise died down the smoke cleared away, and Mr. Hughes was confirmed. It was seen that accepting even the highest office in the land in either the judiciary or the executive branches of the government is not a pleasant thing in many respects. Mr. Hughes maintained his usual dignified silence throughout the controversy. But he undoubtedly learned much about his past record he never thought of before.

Development of the visual-type radio beacon for use of airplanes flying in any condition of visibility has now reached a point where the pilot instead of listening through headphones to catch the code signals, observes an indicator. This is a tremendous improvement and makes for greater safety. If, now, airplane parachutes can be brought up to a status of required performance, all will be well. The parachute is one of the big questions yet pending for solution. Lindbergh is credited with describing the parachute as "something which if you haven't got when you need it, you will never need again."

Much interest in Washington centers around Henry Ford's declaration that he will devote the rest of his life and one hundred million dollars of his money to founding schools. Mr. Ford thinks much of the crime and racketeering is to be blamed on the failure of schools to teach young men how to fit into the world. Also, it might be observed, much crime and racketeering is due to a lot of inherent cussedness in some human natures, plus a desire to live without work. Mr. Ford's plan will not provide a living without work. However, it is a most laudable undertaking and he will not miss the $100,000,000 seriously.

Free Want Ads.
to Subscribers

During the month of March all "For Sale" and "Wanted" want-ads in the Avalanche will be run free to paid-in-advance subscribers. This gives our subscribers an opportunity to advertise any articles they have no further use for—churns, plows, cars, furniture, phonographs and records, farms and other land, etc. Also, those who will be many things you will want. Someone undoubtedly has just such an article as you are wanting and by putting a little want-ad in our paper you will find just what you want.

Of course those in business will understand this offer does not apply to goods which they carry in stock for sale. It does apply, however, to articles not connected with their business which they wish to dispose of, or something not connected with their business which they wish to buy.

This offer is not made as an inducement for anyone to pay their subscription—we don't have to. The Avalanche, we believe, has the best paid-up subscription list in northern Michigan.

It is simply a good-natured effort to extend the usefulness of our Want-ad department to our friends, and is another added feature to make the Avalanche more valuable to its readers.

ST. MARY'S SOCIETY
GIVES TACKY DANCE

Salute your partner! First two couples forward and back! Yes, that was Bill Christenson or was he, was Jerry Lamont or was he, was the "Tacky" dance was on at the school gym in the midst of bales of hay, crates of chicken, cutters, harness and everything that makes up the setting of a real barn dance.

There was a very good sized crowd. There were lumberjacks, circus riders, spinsters, suffragettes, old fashioned ladies that reminded you of the good old hitching post days, the days of the hoop skirts, hats and pin-up girls. The days when men went to the polls alone and mothers who rocked the babies to sleep.

It was a gay crowd too, full of pep in the circle two steps, square dances, fox-trots and waltzes as played by old-time fiddlers. Jim Perkins acted as floor manager and Mrs. Marius Hanson as general chairman and did much toward the success of the party.

At twelve o'clock the dancers were lined up for the grand march before the judges, Dr. C. R. Keyport, A. J. Joseph and Dr. R. B. Howard. It was a hard task for these gentlemen to make a decision but honors fell finally to Harry Weiss, Harold McNeven, Mrs. O. P. Schumann and Ruth McNeven, each receiving $2.50 as prizes.

Lunch was served by the ladies of St. Mary's Altar Society who sponsored the party and were responsible for its success.

The affair was given to raise funds for the new organ which is to be installed in St. Mary's Catholic church, and a neat sum was realized toward this very splendid objective.

ENJOY NEGRO SPIRITUAL CONCERT
A very interesting "Negro Spiritual" program was rendered during the Elworth League service last Sunday evening. The entire program was in charge of Miss Marie Schmidt who took her place at the piano and played for each person taking part. There was a good crowd present and those who attended were more than repaid after listening to the beautiful old negro melodies which all knew so well and which were rendered so nicely. The numbers were selected by Miss Schmidt.

Solo—"Nobody Knows de Trouble I've Seen"—Howard Schmidt.
Reading—"O Black and Unknown Bards"—Marian Hanson.
Reading—Charles Hill.
Solo—"Deep River"—Louise McAllister.
Piano solo—"Old Black Joe"—Marie Schmidt.
Duet—"Swing Low Sweet Chariot"—Vella Hermann, Marie Schmidt.

WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES
February, the birth month of a galaxy of notable persons, was the subject of discussion for the program of the Woman's club. Miss Ingeborg Hanson, as hostess, introduced Mrs. Thana Cushman and Miss Margaret Shambaugh who read papers made up of short biographies of a number of famous men and women.

The "Mother and Daughter" banquet which is to be an event of March 3, was discussed. The committees in charge has announced that tickets may be obtained by any Grayling women who wish them. Olson's Shoe Store, Mac & Gladys Drug Store, Central Drug Store or any club member will supply tickets.

Allen Resigns As Pres. E. M. T.

The resignation of Floyd A. Allen, of Grosse Pointe Farms, Michigan, as president of the East Michigan Tourist Association was announced today by J. F. Marston, secretary-manager of the organization. Mr. Marston's first indication of Mr. Allen's decision was his receipt of a letter from the association president dated Feb. 13 in which he stated that he is moving permanently to Los Angeles, California, on the 27th of this month or on March 1st.

"I regret, indeed, the necessity of offering you herewith, my resignation as president of the association," the letter reads, "to take effect at as early a date as you find convenient. My work with the association has been most pleasant. I feel that you are entering, now, a period of increased activity and usefulness, and I shall watch your development with marked interest even from quite a considerable distance."

In writing of his taking up permanent residence in California, Mr. Allen said, "This is rather a large change to make and involves many unpleasant features, not the least of which is the necessary breaking of the ties which have joined me to your office and the association."

"Mr. Allen has been president of the East Michigan Tourist Association for the past four years, a job which he handled always with enthusiasm, with rare insight into the problems of the organization and with keen vision as to its future in the development of East Michigan," said Mr. Marston at the Log Office today. "We have been especially fortunate in having a man of such ability as the leader of our group, and we shall feel his loss very keenly."

No action will be taken toward filling the office left vacant by Mr. Allen until the next regular meeting of the executive committee, according to Mr. Marston.

Any person who has served in the army, navy or marine corps, and is no longer connected, but has honorable discharge, is entitled to burial at Arlington.
